TRUCK STRIKES TAXI IN WHICH EXECUTIVE WAS RIDING TO DEPOT

Delaware, O., Sept. 30.—Governor Frank B. Willis, his wife and daughter, Miss Helen, received more or less severe injuries, this morning about 7:30, when a heavy truck ran into the taxicab in which they were being conveyed from the home of the governor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Willis, to the Hocking Valley station, where they were to take a train for Columbus.

Mrs. Willis was the most severely injured and is now in the Jane Case Hospital at Delaware. Her condition is not serious. She was thrown from the machine to the pavement and suffered a contusion of the forehead and bruises about the head and body. The governor was thrown through the windshield and escaped with a laceration of the right hand. His daughter was also thrown out of the machine, but was only slightly bruised.

The governor and his family went to Delaware last evening to spend the night at his parent's home. He will remain in Delaware Saturday and possibly Sunday, when his wife may be able to leave the hospital.

Later it was learned that the governor's wife was considerably bruised and is suffering from a nervous shock. Governor Willis received only a laceration on the right hand and his daughter escaped without a scratch. The governor had planned on returning to Columbus today but will remain here until it is definitely decided just how serious his wife is injured.

BRITISH LOST MORE THAN 3,800 MEN A DAY IN SEPTEMBER

London, Sept. 30.—British losses in September were at the rate of more than 3800 a day. The casualties on all fronts reported in this month were: Officers 5439; men 114,110.

Heavy as were the British losses in September, they were lighter than those of August, which were 127,945, a daily average of 4,127. In July, the first month of the Somme offensive, the losses were about half those of August or September, notwithstanding the fact that in July the British stormed the first line German defenses. The casualties in that month were 59,675, so that the total for the three months of the Somme drive is 307,169.

French and English press despatches report that considering the character of the fighting, the losses of the allies on the Somme are low.

HUGHES ENDS SECOND TRIP OF CAMPAIGN

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Chas. E. Hughes today completed his twenty-thousandth mile of campaigning within eight weeks. He also ended the second trip of his presidential campaign. Mr. Hughes left here at 8 a. m. today for Buffalo with eleven stops between. He rounded out the five thousand five hundredth mile of his trip on the way.

AMBASEADOR TO RETURN TO FRANCE
Ellyria, O., Sept. 30.—Ambassador William G. Sharp is preparing to return to his duties in Paris. He announced today that he has booked passage for October 14. He stated that before countries aren't as hard up as returning to Paris he would be issuing new bonds nearly all the time.

AMERICAN GIVES A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF VERDUN FIGHTING

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—Stories of the great battle for Verdun have been brought to St. Louis by Elmore McNeill Bostwick, who has returned to America after driving a hospital ambulance in the French army. He is the son of the public librarian of St. Louis.

As soon as he arrived in France, Bostwick was assigned to the Verdun sector, and was there when the great German offensive began.

"At the beginning of the attack," he said, "the French were pressed to the utmost. The commanders had to increase their fighting force from 200,000 to nearly a million and for two weeks, affairs were considerably disorganized. The weather was cold, and food was short. The pounding of the German guns filled the medical posts with wounded. At first we were short of drivers, and each man had to remain on duty nineteen or twenty hours.

"In the French counter attacks, sometimes 3,000 would charge, and a thousand of these would be killed or wounded. It was hard to get the wounded out. Those who were able to do so, crawled back to the French trenches. Others lay out in the fields until help came, and often died. The stretcher bearers were not permitted to risk their own lives to get the wounded, and if shell fire kept up all day, keeping the stretcher bearers from going out after the wounded, they would dart out at night, loop a rope around the body of a wounded man and from the shelter of a trench draw him in."

Mr. Bostwick said that the French ambulance drivers and stretcher bearers treated the French and German wounded with equal consideration, and he thought the Germans did likewise.

PHILADELPHIANS TAKE LEAD IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The Philadelphia Phillies captured the lead in the National league pennant hunt this morning by defeating the Brooklyn 7 to 2. Manager Robinson sent his star pitcher Pfeffer to the mound to check the Philadelphia advance but he was hammered hard and consistently and his service failed to baffle the bats of the visitors. Leaders helped himself to two baggers and a home run. Brooklyn could do little with Rixey's delivery. The game was played on a wind swept field. Philadelphia 110011030-7. Brooklyn 001000010-2. Batteries—Rixey and Killifer; Pfeffer and Miller.

German Military Leaders Confident

Berlin, Sept. 30.—(Via London)—The latest fighting on the Somme evidently has not shaken the confidence of the German military leaders in their ability to prevent a breach in their line. The Berliner Tageblatt's special war correspondent interviewed Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, commander of the German forces on the Somme, Tuesday, and the Crown Prince's utterances expressed complete confidence in the situation for the present and the future.

The Crown Prince is quoted as having said that since the offensive began, the Entente allies had gained some ground, but there could be no thought of this decisively changing the situation. "It is impossible to predict how things will go hereafter," said Prince Rupprecht, "but one thing is certain, namely that we have everything so thoroughly prepared that we are able to contemplate the situation with equanimity, whatever comes. The offensive will certainly not reach an early end.

"We can reckon upon an offensive of great persistence and with heavy attacks, accompanied by an enormous expenditure of ammunition. But we have taken precautions. Our artillery has been reinforced and likewise our aeroplane corps."

RETURN TROOPS FROM BORDER

Washington, Sept. 30.—Names of two more National Guard regiments to be returned home from the Mexican border were given the war department in dispatches from General Funston. They are the First Regiment of New York field artillery and the Tenth Pennsylvania Regiment of Infantry.

PRESIDENT HAS BUSY PROGRAM

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 30.—President Wilson's program for today is the busiest arranged for him since he came to Shadow Lawn. This morning he reviewed the Fourth New Jersey regiment of Infantry at Sen Girt, and this afternoon he will receive and address members of the Young Men's Democratic Clubs from New York.

The New Jersey regiment, recently returned from the Mexican border and because of this fact the president felt a particular interest in it.

He reviewed the command on horseback. The review took place in front of the "Little White House" occupied by the president when he was governor of New Jersey.

Representatives of the Democratic committee arrived here early to complete arrangements for the reception of the young Democrats who were expected to arrive on special trains at 3 o'clock.

The president is prepared to speak to them at 4 o'clock. It is understood that his address will deal with reasons why young men should vote the Democratic ticket.

Train Leaves Track; Two Are Killed

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—When a piston rod on the first engine of train 1231 on the Pennsylvania line, New York to Cincinnati, broke today, the train left the track and partially overturned. The engineer and fireman on the first engine were killed, while the crew of the second engine were injured. Five passengers were bruised, but none seriously hurt. The wrecked train was of steel coaches, drawn by two engines. About 1500 feet of track was torn up.

BREWERY WORKERS RETURN TO THEIR POSTS

New York, Sept. 30.—Officials of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway employees began today the distribution of a $25,000 strike benefit fund among the street car men who have been on strike here since September 12. According to the figures given out by the labor leaders, each man was to receive $5. The fund came from the headquarters of the association in Detroit and the organizers said a similar amount will be distributed each week.

Efforts to organize a general strike in support of the car men suffered a check today when the 900 brewery workers who quit in response to a general call, returned to work. Nevertheless the labor chiefs asserted that 100,000 workers aside from the United Hebrew Trades, are on strike.

Traction officials said the street car men who quit are returning to their posts at the rate of about 15 a day and that the places of the strikers are slowly being filled by new men. For the first time since the strike began surface cars were operated on lower Broadway last night.

They will remain for the convention of the Ohio State Federation of Labor and the Trades Union Liberty League beginning Oct. 8. It is announced that building trades conditions in Ohio are generally satisfactory and that the business of the first convention at least will be chiefly legislative.

NAME TAKEN OFF BALLOT

Lima, O., Sept. 30.—With the unanimous vote of 32 election officials against him the petition of Charles E. Wharton, Kenton, candidate for judge of the court of appeals was thrown out and his name ordered removed from the ballot. Evidence was presented tending to show that six hundred of the seventeen hundred names on Wharton's petition were fraudulent. The charges were filed by Judge Phil Crow, Democratic candidate for election.

FRENCH FURTHER ADVANCE WEDGE; REPULSE TEUTONS

[BULLETIN]

Berlin, Sept. 30 (Via London)—Troops under General Von Falkenhayn, former chief of the general staff have won a battle at Hermannstadt, Transylvania, defeating strong sections of the first Rumanian army, the war office announced today.

London, Sept. 30.—Desperate fighting has been progressing along the northern end of the Somme front where the British have recently made important inroads upon German positions south of the Ancre.

The British war office reports heavy counter attacks by the Germans near the Stiff redoubt and the Hessian trench and declares that a division of the new British army acquitted itself most creditably in beating off the Germans.

Farther down the line toward the Somme the French have resumed their attacks, pushing farther the wedge into the German lines in the region of Rancourt. The new French advance, according to Paris, was scored by means of hand grenade operations north of Rancourt.

The British lost heavily in the fighting on the Somme front during September. This is indicated by the casualty lists, which show the casualties on all fronts during the month to have been nearly 120,000 officers and men or at the rate of more than 3800 a day.

In Macedonia the Bulgarians report a success in the Kaimakal-an region near the Serbian border where a trench of the main Serbian position was captured after a Serbian attack had been repulsed. No important changes in the situation elsewhere in Macedonia or in Dobruja are announced.

Petrograd reports that there has been no important happenings either on the Russian front or in the Caucasus.

Rumanians Are Repulsed
Vienna, Sept. 30.—(Via London)—Rumanian forces have been repulsed and Hermannstadt, Transylvania, and the heights south and southeast of the town have been captured by Austro-German troops, says the official statement from general headquarters today. The battle there has not yet been concluded.

Heavy Fighting Near Thiéval
London, Sept. 30.—East of Lesbœufs on the Somme front, British troops have occupied 500 yards of German trenches, says the official statement issued by the British war office last night. There was heavy fighting near Thiéval.

The British were forced from a section of the "Hessian trench," but regained it later. The statement adds that more than 500 prisoners were taken in this fighting.

French Gain Near Rancourt

Paris, Sept. 30.—The French have made further progress north of Rancourt by grenade attacks, according to the official statement issued by the war office today.

Ohio—Fair tonight and Sunday. Frost tonight. Rising temperature Sunday.
Kentucky—Fair tonight and probably Sunday. Warmer.
West Virginia—Fair tonight and Sunday. Frost tonight. Rising temperature Sunday.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 82.

Dear Dolly—I went with a boy in my town almost a year. I liked him better every day I was with him. A girl friend advised me to not keep company with him. As soon as I quit him she began going with him. Do you think she is a true friend? The boy became angry at me for taking her advice and we have not been going together for a long time. He now talks to me every chance he gets and comes to see me. Do you think he still loves me? Do you think there is any chance of my getting him back as he is the only one I care anything about. Thank you.

SOPHIE

There is something wrong with the mechanism of your body. Get at the root of the trouble, not at the result of it. Lead a regular life, avoid rich foods, sleep at least eight hours in a well ventilated room and take plenty of exercise and your face ought to clear up in time.

Dear Miss Wise—My face was broken out with pimples. I used some stuff and stopped those. Then I was very sick and was put on a diet. Now I am off the diet and the pimples have come back. What causes them?

Be real nice to him every time you meet him and he'll do the rest if he wants to come back.

Dear Dolly—Is it appropriate for a bridesmaid to wear a bouidoir cap at a church wedding?

MAID OF HONOR

It would hardly be designated as a bouidoir cap. However, there are many pretty models for bridesmaids' caps in vogue. One of them is just a brim made of wired lace or tulle with two ribbons fastened to it and crossing at right angles on top of the head to form the crown.

Dear Dolly—Please settle this question for me. When a person buys a piece of property who pays the taxes, the new owner or the old one?

WANT-TO-KNOW

The seller usually exempts himself from paying any further taxes or special assessments by putting a clause to that effect in the deed, as the next tax statement will come in his name. It is, however, a matter of agreement at the time of making the deed and can be decided either way.

Dear Miss Wise—Would you advise a young man who is thinking of going away to college, to take up a professional course, or to prepare for straight business? I am undecided what to do. YOUNG MAN.

If you are undecided, you can't do anything better than to stay at home until you find out what you do want to do, and then go to college with the determination to learn to do it as well as possible. There are too many people who have no definite idea of what they intend to do when they go away, and consequently come back from college with nothing accomplished. Not knowing your personality, it would be useless for me to advise a professional or a vocational training. All that I can say is that you should learn something of your qualifications and then decide for yourself.

Dear Miss Wise—My eyes seem to change color constantly. Is this a sign of fickleness? ROSIE POSEY.

There is a saying to that effect. You ought to know whether or not you are fickle. The eyes have nothing to do with it.

rael Putnam, of Revolutionary period fame. Addresses were made, poems read and an otherdents of the 38 branches of the German-American Alliance of the State. He will also pay a week's visit to his brother, F. C. Schiffer, postmaster of Shelby, Ohio.

THE FUTURE.

Why make yourself sick with worry about the future when that worry cannot possibly help matters? Anxiety is the poison of human life, the parent of many sins and of more miseries.
Can your solicitude alter the cause or unravel the intricacy of human events? To provide against every important danger by the employment of the most promising means is the office of wisdom, but at this point wisdom stops.—Blair.

DRINK TO YOUR HEALTH

Kentucky Carlsbad Water

There is more to the caption of this little article than, at a glance would appear.

If one would stop and consider
what the drinking of PURE WATER means and then add to this the wonderful medicinal properties contained in Kentucky Carlsbad Water, one would get the full meaning of "Drink to Your Health."

This "WONDER WATER"
comes from the earth at a depth of over 1,100 feet, is thoroughly filtered, which removes any possible foreign matter, but does not remove any of its health giving properties, and is put up in half-gallon bottles (six to a case) that have been thoroughly washed and cleansed and then sterilized with live steam.

To each case, as above described, is added one smaller bottle of the Natural Mineral Water, that has been fortified for use in cases of constipation or when the bowels need flushing.

Unless you are familiar with Kentucky Carlsbad Water you are, no doubt, wondering what the wonderful curative properties contained in this water are and what we claim for them.

If you will send for our free booklet, which gives the analysis of Kentucky Carlsbad Water, and submit same to your physician, he will tell you that by using the water in liberal quantities it will correct Uric Acid (the cause of most rheumatism, Diabetes, and will give quick relief in cases of Stomach Trouble.

We have here at Dry Ridge a thoroughly modern sanatorium and hotel, where patients receive prompt and permanent relief from all the above troubles.

Our rates are low and we would like to correspond with you in reference to your particular trouble. Write for booklet.

Big Mardi-Gras Parade Will Be Held Tonight

The Mardi Gras spirit will culminate this evening at 7:45. They are impatient for the Mardi Gras. Both Thursday and Friday evenings, the deep throated horns have produced a din that strangled all other noises. With the weather cool and fair Saturday promises to be a great day. This afternoon there will be an Old Fiddlers' contest and a Buck and Wing dance contest on the Gallia street esplanade. Grey haired veterans from all sections of the county will participate in the Fiddlers' contest and some lively dance and jig strains are promised. Of course, the Buck and Wing dance contest will have several entrants. It will be open season for masqueraders after the sun goes down and the streets of the city will be turned over to them. At 7:45 a parade will form at the Market street esplanade and move east on Second to Chillicothe street; north on Chillicothe street to Eighth street; east on Eighth street to Waller street; south on Waller street to Gallia street; west on Gallia street to Chillicothe street; south on Chillicothe street to Second street and west on Second street and disband.

At the reviewing stand on Chillicothe street will be the judges: Will P. Minego, Otto Maiter and Dr. Frank Spencer. As the masqueraders pass the prize winning costumes will be selected. Prizes will be given for the best "Uncle Sam," "Goddess of Liberty," best national character; best comic character and best lady comic character. Get in the costume early and meet your neighbor down street. They will all be there. Most of the spectators of the past three evenings will be out for a frolic. If you fail to see the parade, you will meet them when it is bands. The streets will be thronged with people until midnight. Help make the last evening of the Korn Karnival and the last event a history making feature one that will not be forgotten.

NEW PLANS SUGGESTED FOR 1917 KORN KARNIVAL

Huge Coliseum Is Planned For Gallia Square--No Booths

That the 1917 Korn Karnival will be bigger and better than ever providing their plans are adopted is the belief of several business men who have come forward with a plan for the holding of the autumnal celebration next year.

Their ideas provide for the elimination of all booths and the erection of a temporary coliseum on the Gallia street esplanade. They would have the street raised to the level of the center of the square by the laying of a complete board floor. The coliseum would extend from Chillicothe street to the Miller building, now occupied by the Security Bank. The enclosure would be covered with a canopy top, and in the extreme east end of the coliseum a big stage would be erected, sufficient to hold 500 people. Band concerts and big choruses would hold forth from the stage.

Surrounding the interior of the exhibit hall would be stalls where merchant, mechanic and manufacturer would exhibit his stock in trade. It is said that several manufacturers who have been approached along this line have given their unqualified promise of approval and support. In fact it would be so arranged that shoes would be manufactured complete inside the enclosure. Those formulating the idea have suggested that the Karnival extend over an entire week. Parades would be given nightly.

In addition to the displays at the coliseum, it has been suggested the merchants arrange to have their fall openings during the Karnival, and attire their stores accordingly. It would also be necessary to add considerably more light, making midnight on the streets as light as mid-noon. With the coliseum enclosed, rain would have no effect on the exhibits, and they would not have to be disturbed at any time during the Karnival.

Several merchants who have been approached upon the scheme have fallen in with it with unbounded enthusiasm. They see where such a Karnival would give them a much better chance to dispose of merchandise, inasmuch as there would be no obstruction of the streets and no booths to draw the attention of the thousands of citizens and visitors. Their display windows would then be the main attraction.

LIFE PRESERVER FROM BREMEN IS FOUND ON COAST

Portland, Maine, Sept. 30.—A life preserver marked "Bremen" the name of the German submarine freighter which has been generally expected to arrive at some Atlantic coast port for the past week or more, was picked up on the ocean side of Cape Elizabeth yesterday.

The name "Bremen" was stenciled in black letters two inches high on both sides of the buoy. On one side of the canvas covering, as printed a small crown.

Over this were the words "Shutz-Marks," meaning patent, or trade mark. Beneath were the words "Epping-Norve, Wilhelmshafen." This indicated apparently the name of the maker.

The preserver seemed to be new and apparently had not been in the water a great length of time. It was stained with oil. An officer of the coast guard cutter service who examined the buoy said that if the preserver had been thrown overboard by some one who thought to play a practical joke he had done a very good job.

The preserver was well made and the lettering and the ink were of the best quality.

The buoy was picked up at a small place known as Maiden Cove, by a ten year old lad, Frederick L. Lokenum, of West Brook.

The Post says that the presence of Rockwell and others in enemy camps cannot be regarded as the acts of individuals, but declares that America sends its own citizens to European theatres of war to fight Germany. The paper says that the Rockwell incident shows "to what a depth regard for neutrality has sunk among our enemies and in America."

The Head of Every Family

Is paying for a home. If he is living in a rented house, he is paying for his landlord's house, and when he has it paid for, it still belongs to the landlord, and he starts right in paying for it a second time.

When he adopts the ROYAL DEFINITE CONTRACT LOAN plan and has a home paid for, he owns the house and can quit paying or go on saving his money for some other plan to benefit himself and family.

INTEREST RATE IS REASONABLE

Some people say "I would buy a home but I have not enough to pay cash and the interest is so much." They let the interest scare them. The interest rate is six and seventy-six one-hundredths per cent. The renter pays this to his landlord and a profit besides.

SAVE THIS PROFIT FOR YOURSELF

Why, some people are buying houses through the Royal and letting the renter pay for them. They bring the rent to pay the payments on the loan.

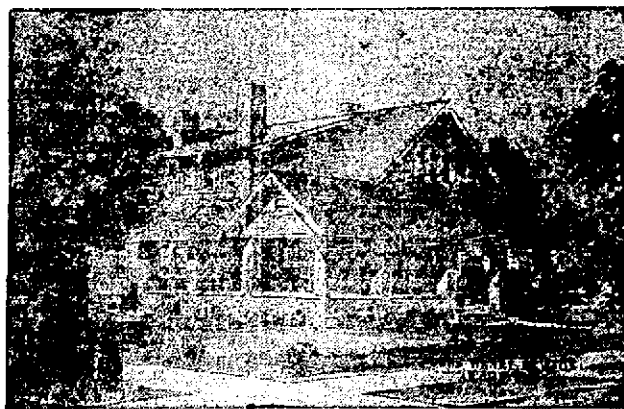

Are you going to keep on buying the landlord's house or are you going to pay for a home of your own.

Come and see us. We will help you get your own home.

"Home of Character" No. 147

This bungalow, while having rooms upon the second floor with ample provision for ventilation to insure coolness in the summer time, is so designed as to have the low effect that is always associated with the bungalow. The foundation and porch piers are carried out in field or cobblestone. The roof is of shingles and the sides of the house are carried out in wide resawn siding. The gables and dormers are also covered with shingles.

The living room is entered directly from the porch, which surrounds both sides of the house, and the dining room opens to the right of the living room. The bedrooms are reached by a hall off the living room, and at the end of this hall is provided the bath. The kitchen is separated by a small pantry from the dining room and has an ample kitchen porch. The stairway extends from the hall to the second floor where two good bedrooms are provided, each with closets and ample storage space on the rear. The feature of access to the bathroom from the bedrooms without passing through the living room is very desirable and insures utmost privacy of the sleeping quarters and at the same time affords proper access to same from the living quarters of the house.

This design, 32x41 feet, is planned without basement and built in this manner should not cost to exceed $3100, with basement and heating plant it would cost about $1000 more.

Readers of the Times are privileged to ask Mr. Newson any questions concerning No. 147 or any other "Home of Character" free of charge. Always give number of home concerning which you inquire and address "John Henry Newson, Homes of Character Dept." The Times.

EVERYTHING ELECTRICAL

IT'S WARM ENOUGH THESE DAYS WITHOUT ADDING ANY MORE HEAT!

The idea right now is to reduce the heat in the home, the work shop and the factories. When the thermometer is hovering in the nineties, enjoy the cooling current from an electric fan—costs no more to operate than burning an incandescent light. Don't swelter keep cool—an electric fan will solve the problem.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS GIVE BRILLIANT LIGHT AND NO HEAT!

The light is mellow, restful and as near like daylight as the sun's rays. Be comfortable, be happy, be contented, be sensible—do things electrical in these progressive days. Whether you own your home or rent it, you ought to see it has electric service. We will be glad to talk to you any time about how little it costs and what are its manifold advantages.

Says Wife Mocked At Religion; Asks Divorce

All sorts of frivolous actions, him, sing and dance about him, kick over the chairs and commit other acts equally outrageous, to his great annoyance and humiliation. The plaintiff further claims that he purchased a small farm near Carlisle, Ky., and that in August, 1915, his wife ordered him to leave and he refused. He says she threatened his clothing out and he left. Since then they have been separated. They were married December 25, 1906. Attorney Theo. K. Funk represents the plaintiff.

SOLVE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING BAKE YOUR OWN BREAD!

An advertisement that every housewife in Portsmouth Should Read Carefully. A presentation of FLOUR FACTS that no one can successfully deny. And while reading, do not forget that is the best in the world—made right here in Portsmouth, where it has come to be known as the Premier Flour—the housewife's delight, best for bread and unexcelled for pies, cakes and pastries. Always pure, wholesome and of uniform quality—demand it from your grocers—accept no substitute.

MAGNOLIA FLOUR

How to Save Money on Your Bread Bill

A BARREL OF MAGNOLIA FLOUR MAKES THE FOLLOWING NUMBER OF LOAVES OF BREAD ACCORDING TO THE SIZE OF THE LOAVES IN OUNCES:

Total number of loaves 332, equal to 533,120 ounces. These make:

333 loaves of 16 ounces each at 5 cents, cost housewife $16.65; at 6c, $19.98
355 loaves of 15 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $17.75; at 6c, $21.30
389 loaves of 14 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $18.95; at 6c, $22.80
410 loaves of 13 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $20.50; at 6c, $24.60
444 loaves of 12 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $22.20; at 6c, $26.64

This figuring the cost of all ingredients at their present high prices, leaves her a big profit at the lowest price she would pay for her bread, when she buys by the single loaf. Surely enough difference to pay her for her time and trouble. A family is rated to use one barrel of flour per annum per person. The average family is five persons, or should be. See what the reduction in the high cost of living would mean in the matter of bread alone.

If she bakes her own bread, it will cost her as follows:

|                              |           |
|------------------------------|-----------|
| 196 pounds flour .....       | $ 8.50   |
| 3 1-4 salt .....             | $ .05    |
| 6.53 sugar at 7 cents .....  | $ .4571  |
| 3.27 lard at 16 cents .....  | $ .5232  |
| 4.57 yeast at 25 cents ..... | $ 1.143  |
| Fuel .....                   | $ 1.09   |
| Total .....                  | $11.6433 |

Will Of Late J. C. C. Mayo

The report that Mrs. J. C. C. Mayo loses $10,000,000 by the terms of her husband's will, through her recent marriage with Dr. S. P. Fetter, of Portsmouth, is incorrect.

The story carried by The Times a week ago about Mrs. Mayo's financial affairs was correct.

The Mayo will follows: "Paintsville, Ky., March 14, 1913.—While in full possession of my mental faculties, I desire to dispose of my property in the way that appeals to me as best for the objects of my bounty as well as my estate at my death.

"First—I therefore bequeath to my beloved wife, in whom I have the fullest confidence, my entire estate of every kind and description whatsoever.

"Second—I desire that she take up my business where I leave off, carry out my contracts fully (and for the purpose of ascertaining just what they are, she will consult my friend, John E. Buckingham, only, who knows about them), and in order that she may carry out this provision of my will she is appointed executrix without bond, with full power to sell any and all property that is, in proper, including any or all of my real estate, and also collect any and all sums due me and receipt for same; in fact, do any and all things that I could do with my property if living.

"I direct that she be not required to return any inventory of my estate.

"JOHN C. C. MAYO. Witnesses: George F. Copland, John E. Buckingham."

Before Mrs. Mayo married Dr. Fetter, she voluntarily turned over one-half her fortune to five trustees for her children.

FALLS FROM CURB; HIP IS FRACTURED

Engelbert Nagel, aged 84 years, a Civil war veteran, had the misfortune to fracture his left hip as he prepared to leave the Korn Carnival district for his home in Sciotoville Friday night at 10:30 o'clock.

He expected to board a street car at Gallia and Chillicothe street but just as he stepped from a curb in front of J. F. Carr's jewelry store he fell. Two Bay him to Hempstead hospital.

Scouts found him sitting on the curb and not knowing that he had met with an injury started to lift him up. As soon as they realized that he had suffered a fracture they gave the alarm and the police patrol removed him to the headquarters where Dr. W. E. Gault attended him. He suffered intense pain and Lynn's ambulance was later called to remove him to the hospital.

WHEREFORE THE BALDNESS

The eternal question of why baldness is again at the fore. There is an assumption that baldness is inherited, passed on from the father to the son. That can't be so, of course, because no one ever heard of the daughter inheriting baldness from her mother, nor from her father, either, for that matter.

Fakirs have proclaimed cures as numerous as the hairs on the head and physicians and scientists are only a few laps behind in the reasons offered for the thorough job that nature does in denuding some men's dome. The most reasonable reason is that men wear hats and women don't, that is the female doesn't wear them to hurt, while the male does. Running from the body and all about the head are exceedingly delicate vessels, carrying nourishment to the roots of the hair. A man's hat, being tight fitting at points compresses these so that their functions are destroyed and the hair dies. This is not the case with a woman, because her hat sits lightly upon her head, the vessels are shielded to large extent by the masses of her tresses and most of the time she is without any headgear at all.

It is because of the vessels mentioned, the danger of interfering with their service that children should go bareheaded as much as possible, as thus will baldness be avoided, and the luxuriant growth of the hair promoted.

But why does baldness ordinarily begin on the top of the head and seldom first manifests itself low down towards the neck. That is quite easily explained. The crown is furthest from the source of nourishment and therefore the weakest point of attack. If baldness begins at the forehead earliest that is simply evidence that the hat fitted tightest along the forehead and there destruction began.

Considering the cause of baldness brings the thought that intemperance is claimed to be a constitutional, or inherited disease. Nothing of the sort. The daughter is never a drunkard because her father, or grandfather was one before her, neither is the son, for that reason. A child may inherit certain tastes and predilections from a parent, but never a vice, which is essentially a personal dereliction, brought on by indulgence and habit. No man ever took his first drink because he craved it, never took his second because he liked it.

The busiest man during the Carnival, A. G. Turnipseed, Democratic candidate for congress, after a week's stay in Portsmouth, has moved on to Highland county in the prosecution of his campaign. It is rather novel for Democrats to have a district candidate take his nomination seriously and set seriously to work to forward his own election, as Mr. Turnipseed and they enthusiastically welcomed him. In truth, so cordially was the gentleman received by all that he regretted the necessities of canvassing called him away. He thinks Portsmouth is the greatest little city the sun shines on and the home of the most hospitable people that live and work, and he admires them for working because he has known real toil himself, his first occupation being that of a bricklayer. Adams county is the biggest patron of Portsmouth in a business way and it would be fine if her citizens would show an appreciation of her by giving her favorite son a share of its surplus Republican vote.

There is nothing like putting the heart in a thing. The Carnival committee must have been convinced of this when it selected George Keller for superintendent of the flower display. Mr. Keller is a lover of flowers and a successful cultivator of some of the most beautiful blooms grown in the city. So he put his heart in his charge, with the result that only the apple section comes near competing with him for extent and variety of display, while, of course, as to loveliness and brilliancy there is no comparison. It is a revelation too, to see the attention and admiration the flower display attracts. It is going to be of great help in making Portsmouth the city beautiful.

Driving a hundred miles through the rain our late distinguished guests can truthfully report to their government that they have personal knowledge of the worst and best roads man ever builded.

Let's see, have they yet completed that two miles of paving up Munn's Run.

After awhile we are going to look into the matter of how our water works system that didn't systemize is coming along under reconstruction.

Our Central American friends were told Scioto county had spent about a million and a quarter on roads the past twenty-five years. We wonder how big that will sound in a country, where one dollar of our money is sometimes worth a hundred of its.

It is all over but the shouting and we'll agree it was some show.

The state expert says there has been a marked improvement in the quality of corn produced in Scioto county, comparing the exhibit of this year with that made at the first Carnival. There is nothing after all like showing people. To see something one does is mighty apt to inspire a desire and a purpose as well to surpass him.

YOU CAN STAY IN GOOD HUMOR

In a friendly discussion the other day a couple of gentlemen said it was no man's credit that he remained in good humor all the time; that it was all a matter of character—meaning that if one was prone to grow angry he could not help it and ought not to be blamed for getting angry, while if a man was of that disposition that took everything as a matter of fact he deserved no credit for not getting excited.

But the gentleman was mistaken. It is true that some people have "hot tempers." There is no doubt of that. It is characteristic for some to "fly into a rage," and for others to maintain their poise under all circumstances. But there isn't any one who, if he made the effort, could not refrain from growing angry. All that would be necessary would be to make up your mind not to get mad; that would prevent anger in practically every instance.

Most of the people who refuse to become angry have practiced self control until they can control themselves. They are philosophers who have worked out a theory that is correct—that he who loses his temper loses the discussion, or words to that effect. Many of these people who seem to be in a good humor always, and who refuse to become angry, are tempted just as much as others. They simply master the tendency to become angry; that is all there is to it, and it is a very simple process.

The blessings of the world belong to him who refuses to become angry. He gets more out of life than his "fiery" friend. He sees more of the humor of living—and living itself is a humorous thing and full of fun. He appreciates his powers over others, and he knows the advantage which he holds so long as he himself remains in a good humor. So it is literally true that he "has better luck," and gets more out of life than his hot-headed brother who is flying into a rage at every opportunity.—Dayton News.

The Free Press says Detroit is suffering from an embarrassment of riches. There are many towns that would like to be afflicted with the same sort of embarrassment.

A German scientist dying was trying to make a sausage skin out of silk; not half as important as if some one living were to find a way to make silk out of sausage skin.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Sept. 30—Lillian Russell, with a rose-blown complexion unimpaired, despite a year's residence in smoky Pittsburgh, has arrived in New York for the winter. She has been howling around on Broadway and Fifth avenue in a juggernaut English car, which is pure white trimmed in gold stripes.

Her husband, A. P. Moore, who owns a Pittsburgh newspaper, is with her. At the Hotel Majestic, where they are stopping, Mr. Moore was smoking an after-dinner cigar the other evening when a bell-boy tugged gently at his coat-sleeve. Mr. Moore turned.

"Mr. Russell," said the lad, "some-one wants to see you out front in an automobile."

"My name," said Mr. Moore, "is not Russell." And he turned on his heel and walked away. In the meantime the boy was paging a "Mr. Russell" all through the hotel. Finally it dawned on Mr. Moore that his wife was waiting for him in their car.

"There is about only one thing left for me to do," he said, "and that is to register as Mr. Lillian Russell when I come to New York."

All of which shows that editors have a sense of humor, something I have never believed. In fact I tried to joke with one once when I was a cub reporter and gave him a trick cigar. After he had decorated me with one of his choicest selections of ginware—a regular washbowl in fact—I went out of that office into the cruel world convinced that editors were the most lugubrious people in all the world.

Broadway has a new drink. It goes by the name of the Ideal Cocktail.

We haven't been paying much attention to the outside world since the Carnival was on, but we hope it has been wagging along all right.

Greece continues to spurt around in a way that raises a suspicion that something or somebody is going to get bespattered with something that scotches.

Our distinguished visitors, representatives of the government of Guatemala have departed hence, carrying with them, we are sure, a vivid sense that Portsmouth is the most wonderful and hospitable town it has ever been their good fortune to visit.

Sometimes it looks to us, as we move about in our thoughtful way, observing the tendencies of the age, as if the girls' shoes also were rapidly working their way up so as to be in a position to hang from the shoulders, as we understand everything should.—Columbus Journal.

If we took as much pains to let our friends know when we feel good as we do to let them know when we feel bad, the world would be much more cheerful.—Dayton News.

BED TIME TALES

By CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

The Party

Poor little tired Bushy Beaver! sprouts and laid three by each his didn't even wait to go to the plate.

"Did you ever see anything so pretty?" demanded Mother Beaver, proudly, when she looked at the pretty dishes and the feast. "Only, Bushy."

"And the honey's under that stone, Bushy," she continued.

"You have set places for six and there are only four of us."

"I didn't want to waste any dishes, Mother," explained Bushy, "and anyway, Mikey Musk-rat may come or Policeman Billy. Now can we begin?"

Mother Beaver said they could, so she and Bushy ran over to wake smooth, grassy place where she and Bushy quickly arranged the dishes. "The berries are safe, I know, because I covered them with leaves."

And, sure enough, they were safe and fresh under the edge of the bushes close by. And the honey's under that stone, Bushy, she continued. "Isn't it lucky it didn't rain to-day? I wouldn't have had much of a party then, would I?"

While Mother Beaver was fixing the berries and honey on pretty little plates shaped of leaves, Bushy gathered some nice tender tree tail and was invented by a munition millionaire. When Roy K. Moulton, the humorist, was in town the other day he dropped into the Knickerbocker bar with a friend. Everybody in the place was lapping up Ideal Cocktails and watching the bar go around.

So far as Moulton could learn the basis of the drink is gasoline with a jigger of prussic acid and a heavy dash of dynamite. Those who had imbibed just one were only worth a million, but those who had quaffed two were worth two millions, and so on ad nauseum.

Over in the leather-lined cozy corner there was one who had been drinking them all afternoon. He was deeply engrossed in revealing a scheme to two beggars who had only had two cocktails each and were only worth collectively four millions. The plan he had was to personally—Zip there goes another split infinitive—I mean personally to pay the entire Belgian indemnity.

A stranger in New York was watching the police reserves disperse street car strikers on the upper east side the other day. He remarked on the hazardous nature of their calling and how little the public appreciates "The Finest."

"They are heroes now," he said, "and perhaps tomorrow when a life is to be saved or a lawbreaker caught. They risk their lives and are expected to do it. But there are the higher-ups who devote most of their time to trying those same men on all sorts of charges—fining them, suspending them without pay, letting them go on probation, or perhaps dismissing them."

And the stranger is right. No doubt the police regulations are necessary, for there have been some nasty police scandals in New York, but it does seem strange that a man should be a hero today and a culprit tomorrow with the regularity that is the common lot of a New York policeman.

He first appeared in New York in 1861 on Broome street, and he believes that the profession of action is skidding and he is going to jump in and show a lot of the young fellows up—that is, if he can get an engagement.

Big Mardi-Gras Parade Will Be Held Tonight

The Mardi Gras spirit will culminate this evening at 7:45 o'clock with a mammoth parade of merry masqueraders. This event marks the formal close of the Greater 1916 Korn Carnival. Since Thursday evening the crowds have been wearing paper hats, Korn Carnival sashes, carrying tin horns and rattle boxes. They are impatient for the Mardi Gras. Both Thursday and Friday evenings, the deep throated horns have produced a din that strangled all other noises. With the weather cool and fair Saturday promises to be a great day. This afternoon there will be an Old Fiddlers' contest and a Buck and Wing dance contest on the Gallia street esplanade. Grey haired veterans from all sections of the county will participate in the Fiddlers' contest and some lively dance and jig strains are promised. Of course, the Buck and Wing dance contest will have several entrants. It will be open season for masqueraders after the sun goes down and the streets of the city will be turned over to them. At 7:45 a parade will form at the Market street esplanade and move east on Second to Chillicothe street; north on Chillicothe street to Eighth street; east on Eighth street to Waller street; south on Waller street to Gallia street; west on Gallia street to Chillicothe street; south on Chillicothe street to Second street and west on Second street and disband. At the reviewing stand on Chillicothe street will be the judges: Will P. Minego, Otto Maier and Dr. Frank Spencer. As the masqueraders pass the prize winning costumes will be selected. Prizes will be given for the best "Uncle Sam"; "Goddess of Liberty," best national character; best comic character and best lady comic character. Get in the costume early and meet your neighbor down street. They will all be there. Most of the spectators of the past three evenings will be out for a frolic. If you fail to see the paraders, you will meet them when it disbands. The streets will be thronged with people until midnight. Help make the last evening of the Korn Carnival and the last event a history making feature—one that will not be forgotten.

AUTOMOBILE PARADE PROVES TO BE ONE OF BEST FEATURES OF KARNIVAL; 237 CARS WERE IN LINE

Many Machines Were Beautifully Decorated; Thousands View Parade Over Principal Streets

Prize Winners.
The first prize for the best decorated machine went to E. E. Sutton, 2220 Gallia street. He received $25. This car was the one with the children on the fenders. The second prize for the best decorated car went to Harry Boyd's Ford, which led the Ford section. He received $15. The third prize of $10 for the best decorated car was captured by L. W. Bragdon's Buick. This car represented the Goddess of Liberty. The prize of $15 for the most unique car was won by Miss Laura Halderman. This was the black and white checkered car. The second prize of $15 for the most unique car was awarded to James Dawson. This was the yellow and white striped car with a catamount on hood. Car that received special mention were as follows: Roy Lynn, who drove car No. 57, which was decorated with chrysanthemums and strands of Korn Carnival colors. A. Kline, who drove his new Overland and deftly transformed it into "The Fashion." Carl Windle, whose machine was profusely decorated and was mounted with a Golden Eagle. Ralph Marting's Buick, which was dotted with chrysanthemums.

CONSUL GENERAL VIEWS
From the balcony of the Washington hotel, Hon. Ramon Bengoechea, consul general of Guatemala, who was delegated by President Manuel Estrada Cabrera to represent him at the Korn Carnival, and his party watched the automobile parade. It was their last view of the Greater 1916 Korn Carnival, for they left on the midnight C. & O. passenger for New York City. The consul general and his party were highly pleased with the hearty welcome accorded them by the people of Portsmouth. The automobile parade was a grand success. The credit is due to John F. Taylor, chairman and his corps of efficient aides. It formed on Campbell avenue, moved west on Gallia to Chillicothe, north on Chillicothe to Ninth, west on Ninth to Washington, south on Washington to Fifth, east on Fifth to Chillicothe, south on Chillicothe to Second, west on Second to Market, counter-marching and east on Second to Waller and disband. Fire Chief George Koerner in his new runabout led the parade. Large white tissue plumes fastened to the sides of the car sharply contrasted the red body. In an elaborately decorated truck the boys of the River City band, for the first time since the Korn Carnival started, enjoyed a ride while they handed out great bunches of harmony. Mayor H. H. Kaps and his cabinet followed in a neatly decorated car. Around the folded top of the car was a large American flag. Then came a car representing an ear of corn. It was unique and distinct. Every detail of the decorative scheme was carried to completion. It was driven by Karl Gims. Next came a squadron of motorcycles led by a single rider carrying the stars and stripes. There were fifteen in all. Each was draped with Korn Carnival and national colors. A graceful arch of white entwined with red and yellow roses, encircling a field of white tissue, was the next machine that attracted special attention. The design was elaborate and effective. A covey of white doves, wings extended in flight, suspended over the front of a car by the aid of slender rods, led the Ford division. The car was a veritable bank of snow white tissue. Small skeins of twisting white fluttered from the backs of the doves to the driver's seat. Small electric lights gleamed from various parts of the machine. Upon the side was emblazoned in gold the word "Ford." This car was driven by Harry Boyd.

PARADE FROM BALCONY

AND THEN CAME A FLEET OF FORD CARS
A fleet of Fords, garbed in colored streamers and stalks of green corn, followed. One machine enhanced the beauty of the long line of swift, silent brigade. It was covered with autumnal leaves, which had been deftly touched by the paint brush of fall. Large bouquets of golden rod, artistically arranged about the sides formed the principal decorative scheme of another car. The last car in the Ford squadron was a moving flower garden, with a generous sprinkling of leaves and evergreen. There were 32 cars in the Ford brigade. A fleet of graceful Chevrolets came next. These cars were entwined with national and Korn Carnival colors, with white plumes fastened to the sides. Fresh from the pages of highly lithographed automobile advertisement came a beautiful Sedan, simply decorated and carrying a levy of vivacious young ladies, all clothed in cream colored suits.

The patriotic spirit of the time was vividly portrayed by one car which was draped in the national colors, in a fashion that formed Old Glory. The Packard and Hudson divisions were splendidly represented. A scarlet and white banner heralded the approach of the Reo squadron. Three little girls carrying red, white and blue parasols formed

THIS CAR WAS GREATLY ADMIRER BY ALL
"Dame Fashion," wooed by many and a dictator to all, was splendidly portrayed by one machine. Her Royal Highness—a pretty little girl clothed in white—was seated on a throne, erected with artistic skill upon the back of the turrenau. With the grace of a queen she drove the monster of steel, with two small silken ribbons, which were fastened in the bill of a white dove. The body was bathed in white tissue and flecked with purple and yellow chrysanthemums. Upon the side of the snow bank was the word "Fashion" in purple. This car was driven by A. Kline. A background of yellow with

FLEETS OF MACHINES PASSED IN REVIEW
Fleets of Oldsmobiles, Oaklands, Paiges, Overlands, Willys-Knights, Haynes, Saxons and Briscoes passed in review, each carrying special features and all handsomely decorated. A large shoe was mounted on a car by the Witter Shoe store. Over the hood of the car, a small platform was erected and upon it stood a miniature Charlie Chaplin. Perhaps one of the most distinctive machines in the parade was the one driven by Miss Laura Halderman. It was a square platform of the mosaic blocks concealing the machine from view. Upon the top an umbrella of the same design was mounted. Beneath sat a young lady clothed in a checkered suit. The whole arrangement was set off by concealed electric lights. A large rosy faced doll, dressed in a dainty frock, riding on the front of a car decorated in white and yellow, received a hearty round of applause. Completely concealed by a coat of white tissue, with slender white strands encircling the body and lighted by many small electric lights, a machine carrying a winged lion upon the hood, was the source of considerable admiration. It was a Haynes car driven by B. H. Ginn, of Cincinnati.

KORN FAIRIES MADE BIG HIT ALL ALONG LINE
Two little girls, wearing pretty white frocks, seated in small chairs which were fastened to the ends of the front fenders, guided the float called "Korn Fairies." Each little girl held a small ribbon which ran back over the elaborately decorated car to the rear, where "Queen Fairy," comfortably seated with regal grace on a throne, held them. The car received an ovation as it glided past the reviewing stand. It was driven by R. E. Sutton of 2220 Gallia street. Brigades of Buicks, Maxwells, Mitchells, Studebakers, Chalmers, Dodges, Cadillacs, all decorated in elaborate style and punctuated frequently by gems of decorative and creative art, came next. Another car covered with white tissue and elaborately decorated with white and green streamers was applauded. A small automobile, mounted on the hood of a handsomely decorated machine, in which were seated a little girl and boy, received an ovation. This car was driven by Mrs. Albert Reischy. A soaring golden eagle over two automobile tires formed the principal decoration of a car entered by the Home Vulcanizing company. The car was a poem of white and green and orange decorations. This was driven by Karl Wundt. Small alternating green and yellow stripes originating at the front and running horizontally around the body, formed the background for another uniquely decorated car. This car was driven by James Dawson. The Portsmouth band, seated in a decorated truck, led the division of commercial trucks, which formed the last feature of the parade. Yes, indeed, it was some parade, one that will not be forgotten very soon.

BASE BALL
Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—To wrest the National league leadership now held by the Brooklyn by a scant half game, the Philadelphia started a dual offensive operation today by engaging the enemy in a morning and afternoon game. A brisk cold day followed the bad weather of yesterday when a downpour postponed hostilities until this morning. Several hundred spectators were on hand to witness the morning combat in which Pfeffer for Brooklyn and Rixey for Philadelphia again opposed each other on the pitching mound. The umpires were Klem and Emslie. First inning, first half: Philadelphia 1 run. First inning, second half: Brooklyn 0. Second inning first half: Philadelphia 1.

OBITUARY
Mrs. John I. Mercer
Death at 5:30 o'clock Friday evening called to the Great Beyond, Mrs. Margaret E. Mercer, wife of John I. Mercer, of 1014 Eighth street. She had been ill nearly 17 months. The age of Mrs. Mercer was 72 years when they received proper care. First quality work at reasonable prices. Brehrer, the Painter.

the background for the decorative scheme of another car. A field of white, covered with bunches of yellow chrysanthemums was the costume of one automobile, which was given a generous ovation. A tall willow basket filled with delicate-hued roses fastened to the front of the car and bunches of flowers suspended from the sides of the body, were the decorations on another car.

Almost every farmer in the county paid a visit to Agricultural Hall on Government Square during the Korn Carnival, and by doing so got a chance to see what his neighbor was doing.
